CAPTAIN BRO LEADS BP 20 POINT EXPLOSION AT CHRISTOPHER LEON GARIBIAN M.G.A. ...SWEEPER BUN-HOOCHER GETS No. 5 AND ONE FOR THE THUMB AT ARCH'S...

STAFF WRITER Professor Go-Go Jones

(LOPATCONG, NJ) – You got to love the way Beer Pressure is run. My instincts tell me this is the tightest ship in the galley. Beer Pressure has a very strong team philosophy. They hang together after events, more so than any other team, they rent houses on multiday events and organize dinners at these locations, and they have their own home and away golf shirts with a Beer Pressure logo. Yes, they might not have made it to the playoffs that often, but does that really matter? I personally don't think that is such a big deal. Who needs another tin cup to dust?

Many other teams are always shifting players to and from; Drafting players and cutting teammates to improve their chances of attaining the Red Lion. The Beer Pressure team on the other hand is a beacon of stability and there is little turnover, and that says much. To me who you play with is more important than, having to play with some whacked-out-pole-up-the-ass-uptight golfer. The type of guy that thinks golf is a religion. Please spare me the f$cking drama that these types often bring, and make sure they bring a sharp razor blade, so they can slit their wrists after losing their match.

Beer Pressure got off to a very hot start in 2021, led by their hot stick Eduardo “Irish Moses” Clark in his first five or so tours, and also directed by a very competent Captain, Christopher Lee Brovich. When summer arrived the glory of spring had faded, and Beer Pressure was back in the cellar.

Going into the July 31 final Major at Architects Golf Club, Beer Pressure was close to 15 points behind, the 8-seeded Double Down. It was now or never, and Captain Brovich led the charge at this year's Garibian M.G.A. XXXI. It was his “best round ever played”, and Mr. Brovich claimed, “I stayed out of all the sand traps and was getting up and down.” When the dust had settled, Christopher Lee Brovich had topped the entire 118-player field with a net 33-30-63, and edged Bagger Sullivan of Money Shot who finished Runner Up with a 33-32-65. Mr. Brovich's best round ever was his gross on this day, a sizzling 40-37-77.

Beer Pressure on this afternoon would explode for 20 points, and take down King Dominic Cutillo's Double Downers from their No. 8 Seed standing. Four BP soldiers would secure Top 20 Top Finish slots and points and they included Captain Christopher Lee Brovich, Ryan German, David “The Big Moe” Moehring, and Willie Stout AKA Mr. Big. Beer Pressure rose to the occasion at the Garibian MGA, and when the sun settled-down they were No. 8.

Sweeper Report

How could a guy who is only 140 pounds, hit the ball that damn far? Well, if you are talking about Sweeper Cresci, and his flawless swing, this feat of magic is understandable. One of the most fluid swings on the GMA Tour. Jonathan Cresci, of Keyport, New Jersey, certainly has talent. Cresci comes from the same mold as Anthony Sena, as they both are super athletes.

In this year's Garibian MGA Sweeper-Bun-Hoocher was the top Low Gross Gun. Of the 118 players in this event, Sweeper was the best posting a 38-34-72, to edge a very red-hot German Boy – Graeme Schultz via a tiebreaker. Mr. Schultz went 37-35-72. Sweeper turned on the juice after 12, and finished very strong going birdie, par, par, birdie, birdie, and par. The Big Mac, Michael Sabbagh and Field General Stephen Charles Suk all pushed for bronze with 73's.

King VS Queen

In the highly promoted match of the Year where it was King Dominoe's Cutillo versus the Queen Bee Lisa Coe, it was somewhat of a mis-match. The mighty King was up by 2 at the turn, and sent the Queen Bee to the canvas on No. 15. With the pressure on, King Dom Cutillo delivered the goods posting a stellar gross round of 39-39-78. This earned him the glory, and the soon to be satisfaction of watching Mr. Arthur Penny, who waghered on the Queen, and will now be forced by his lost bet into dressing like a lady-in-skirt for our Hawk Pointe event, on August 23.
