Known to her friends as Connie, Mrs. Rife began playing golf as a freshman in college while attending Purdue University. As she tells the story, a rather dashing young man smitten by her outgoing personality and good looks who was interested in going out with her introduced her to the game.

Connie fell in love all right, with golf! Other than her family, Connie's passion was playing golf. She loved everything about the game, the lessons it taught, the friends she met, the beauty of being outside and of course the challenge of being good at something. As friends often said, Connie truly embodied the spirit of the game and took pride in being a golfer. It is in the spirit of Connie Rife, a wife, a mother, a grandmother, a businesswoman, and friend, and her love for the game that this scholarship bears her name.

Established in 2009, the Constance K. Rife Scholarship provides a one-time $1,000 cash award to one female high school senior who is an active member of a Nebraska School Activities Association recognized high school golf team, and is qualified for admission to a school, college, or university for full-time academic or technical courses.
